PRESS RELEASE

ESCP Business School ranks 27th in the latest Financial Times Global MBA ranking

ESCP Business School's MBA has been ranked 8th in Europe and 27th in the world and in the 2023 Financial Times annual MBA ranking.

This outstanding result reaffirms the school's place as one of the most prestigious business schools worldwide. Moreover, it represents a jump of a whopping 25 places over the past year.

This position in the FT MBA ranking is based on a number of factors including average alumni salary three years after completion, value for money, career progression and aims achieved. Other criteria are research published, international mobility and carbon footprint.

Across the board, ESCP demonstrated exceptional performance. It was ranked 1st place for international course experience. This is thanks to the school's presence across Europe, with campuses in six different European countries, and the world, with branch campuses and academic partnerships in key business hubs, such as Dubai.

"The fact that we have campuses in Berlin, London, Madrid, Paris, Turin and Warsaw makes the ESCP experience truly unique. Added to this, its international faculty provides students with a multi-dimensional outlook, fostering creative and critical thinking. These elements interact to shape outstanding purpose-driven leaders of tomorrow," says Léon Laulusa, Senior Executive Vice-President, Dean for Academic Affairs and International Relations.

The comprehensive study ranked the MBA 1st in the world in terms of International course experience, 3rd for value for money, 7th for international mobility and 12th for job sector diversity. ESCP MBA alumni work in a wide variety of sectors ranging from investment banking and consultancy to NGOs and fashion. ESCP was also ranked 4th in the world for the carbon footprint and Environmental Social Governance teaching criteria. ESG standards are integrated throughout the MBA experience at ESCP, from core courses to workshops and the students' final business consulting projects.

Professor Laura Reyero, Associate Dean of MBA in International Management, says, "Achieving such a high ranking makes us very proud of our students, faculty and staff. The FT's rigorous assessment of such a wide range of factors shows how hard work has paid off in creating innovative, ambitious, and well-rounded business leaders of tomorrow".

Zahia Bouaziz, Director of Studies, MBA in International Management, adds, "This outstanding ranking underlines the exceptional quality of our MBA offering, which is constantly evolving to foster our students' professional and personal growth".

ABOUT ESCP BUSINESS SCHOOL

ESCP Business School was founded in 1819. The School has chosen to teach responsible leadership, open to the world and based on European multiculturalism. Six campuses in Berlin, London, Madrid, Paris, Turin and Warsaw are the stepping stones that allow students to experience this European approach to management.

Several generations of entrepreneurs and managers were thus trained in the firm belief that the business world may feed society in a positive way. This conviction and ESCP's values - excellence, singularity, creativity and plurality - daily guide our mission and build its pedagogical vision.

Every year, ESCP welcomes 9000+ students and 5000 managers from 130 different nationalities. Its strength lies in its many business training programmes, both general and specialised (Bachelor, Master, MBA, Executive MBA, PhD and Executive Education), all of which include a multi-campus experience.
