

Be Prepared to Face the Unknown and the Erratic

Improbable World: An Art Thinking Experience

July 22 2025

ESCP Business School & Galeries Lafayette, Paris, France

What do You do When the Rules No Longer Apply?

With radical changes in tariffs, the rapid spread in artificial intelligence and the threat of war: business as usual is no longer enough! The rules can change overnight, putting your expertise at risk. To thrive, you need one key skill: the ability to face the unknown and find unexpected solutions. This program is designed to build that skill.

Art Thinking: Become a Master of the Improbable

Artists don't fear the unknown—they work with it. They turn limits into creativity, confusion into ideas, and surprises into lasting impact. To harness this power, we created Art Thinking: a method to help you generate bold, unconventional solutions—even in uncertain times.

Cocreate with an Extraordinary Team

Complex challenges require interdisciplinary collaboration. That's why we have assembled a unique team of artists, scientists and entrepreneurs from Europe, Asia and the U.S.. You'll work side-by-side with these experts, Stanford students and peers from diverse industries.
