

Welcome to the Campus Community

Alumni SPOTLIGHT

1. What is your favorite memory about your time at ESCP? The community of curious people growing together - with some of them for life - on the common journey Paris-Oxford-Berlin.

2. What is one fact/method you learned during your studies that you still apply in your business today? "What you measure is what you get". This is a quote from one of our ESCP professors which at the time I deemed as nonsense. The longer I work in a large corporation, the more I know how true and relevant it is.

3. What are three skills/habits that you use every day in your job? 1) Work in three languages on a daily basis - in this sense, Airbus and ESCP are very much alike
2) Ask questions and listen to the answer. This is not only educating, it also builds trust with customers and colleagues.
3) Think with the end result in mind. It's the result that counts, not the quality of the excuse for not achieving the result.

The Company Consultancy Projects are a key element of the Master programmes at ESCP. They allow students to put into practice the theoretical concepts they've acquired, on tangible, real-life business challenges. These projects not only provide students with collaborative and intercultural work experience in groups of 4-5, but also help build their networks working with companies and senior industry experts. For companies, the benefits include 800 working hours that deliver concrete impact on their business goals while also expanding their employer brand to a wider group of final-year Master students. At the end of the two-month projects, students presents results and solutions on the Berlin Campus. Watch a video.
